NHEC Invites Applications for Board of Directors and Sets Deadline

PLYMOUTH – Members of the New Hampshire Electric Cooperative (NHEC) interested in being considered for nomination to the NHEC Board of Directors should submit their candidate material to the NHEC Nominating Committee by February 14, 2025.

Any NHEC member in good standing can run for a seat on the board. NHEC members vote annually to fill open seats on the board. To learn more about the director election process, please visit <https://www.nhec.com/board-of-directors/director-election-process/>. To apply, please contact Maida Lessard (lessardm@nhec.com) for a candidate packet.

“Member involvement in the governance of the Cooperative is important to our success,” said Chair Bill Darcy. “We are in the midst of changes in our energy and broadband businesses which the Board will guide. Being a Board member is an important and rewarding job.”

This year, five of the 11 board seats are up for election with 4 three-year terms and 1 seat for a one-year term. Election ballots are mailed to all members in May. Winners will be seated at the Annual Meeting of Members in June.

The NHEC Nominating Committee meets each year to review applications and interview candidates for the board of directors. Committee members consider the needs of the cooperative and nominate a slate of candidates they feel can best meet those needs. The candidates selected will be identified on the ballot as having been nominated by the nominating committee.

NHEC is a member-owned electric distribution cooperative serving 88,000 homes and businesses in 118 New Hampshire communities.
